SOCIALISTS HASTEN REFORM IN GERMANY

Heads of All German States in Meeting

Agree That National Assembly Must be Held

Present Regime Would Anticipate the Assembly

(By Associated Press)

Berlin, November 26.—Events of the last few days culminating Monday in the meeting of the heads of the various German states at Berlin have indicated that with the exception of the numerically unimportant Spartist group there is complete agreement that a national assembly must be held.

While the majority socialists and bourgeoisie desire the assembly be summoned as speedily as possible the independent socialists make the stand that the introduction of socialist reforms is more important and must be brought about first.

The independent socialists desire that when the assembly comes into being it shall find itself faced by a collection of reforms so firmly established that it cannot undo them.

PROMOTION FOR SIMS IS BOOKED

Commander of U. S. Naval Forces in European Waters Will be Elevated in Rank

(By Associated Press)

Washington, November 27.—Vice Admiral Wm. S. Sims, Commander of American naval forces in Europe since the United States went into the war, has been selected for promotion to the rank of Admiral when a vacancy in the list occurs next month through the retirement of Admiral Austin M. Knight, commanding the Asiatic fleet.

Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves, chief of the convoy service which has guarded transports going overseas without losing an east-bound ship, will be made Vice-Admiral to fill the vacancy caused by advance of Admiral Sims.

MAY NAME BARUCH FOR M'ADOO JOB

Doubtful if Present Head of War Industries Board Will Accept if Offered Post

(By Associated Press)

Washington, November 27.—Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board, it was understood today, has been offered the post of Secretary of Treasury to succeed McAdoo.

Whether he will be nominated is an open question. Without actually declining to serve it is said Mr. Baruch has urged upon the President his belief that he should not enter the cabinet on the grounds that his wealth largely in government and other securities, would be seriously embarrassing.

RESIGNS FROM WILSON CABINET

WILLIAM G. M'ADOO

The resignation of William G. McAdoo as Secretary of the Treasury and Director-General of the Railroads, came as a complete surprise to the country. No intimation of Mr. McAdoo's intention to resign both offices had been received until he personally announced his purpose to newspaper correspondents gathered at his office. The need of a long rest after his extraordinary activities in the financing of the war and the handling of the railroads, and, more than this, the necessity of retrieving his personal fortunes which had suffered from the high cost of living and the hardly sufficient salary of a Cabinet officer, were the two reasons given by Mr. McAdoo for his decision to retire from his connection with the Government and turn his attention to his private business affairs.

The ill health of Representative Carter Glass, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, who also has been mentioned for the office, is said to have been influential in determining the President to ask Mr. Baruch to put aside his known objections.

For Director-General of Railroads, Charles A. Prouty, now director of the railroad administration division of public service and accounts, is believed to be one of the men under consideration.

PLAN COLLECTION UNDER OLD LAW

(By Associated Press)

Washington, November 27.—Plans for collecting next year's tax under the old law have been made by internal commissioner Roper because of the fear that the new revenue bill may not be enacted in time to allow printing and distribution of reporting forms under that measure by January 1st, the opening of the period for filing of returns.

FIRST SOLDIERS LEAVE SHERMAN ON THURSDAY

(By Associated Press)

Chillicothe, O., November 7.—Definite announcement has been made that the first soldiers to be discharged from Camp Sherman will be demobilized Thursday morning.

The first contingent will consist of 400 men from various Ohio counties, and they will depart for their homes to return to civil life, Thursday morning.

It is expected that several hundred men will be released each day thereafter.

KEYS OF CITY.

Saturday noon 1500 soldiers in command of General Smith will march down into Chillicothe and there receive from the Mayor the keys to the city, and until taps sound Saturday night, the uniform will pass the soldiers into all places of amusement and in fact anywhere and everywhere they want to go.

The town will be thrown wide open to all soldiers.

N. Y. POLICE THREATEN TO KILL MOBS

Police at Metropolis May Resort to Machine Guns to Maintain Order

(By Associated Press)

New York, November 27.—Threats of the use of machine guns by the police on soldiers and sailors resisting the efforts of police to prevent lawless attacks were contained in a letter sent by Police Commissioner Enright to Mayor Hylan today and forwarded by the Mayor to the Federal authorities in letters of protest against disorderly conduct by men in the service, at two recent meetings of socialists here.

In his letter to the Mayor, Commissioner Enright said:

"The last two encounters we have had with them (soldiers and sailors) invited the same vigorous measures that are demanded in dealing with lawless and riotous elements whatever their character and if the use of night sticks, revolvers or perhaps even of machine guns is necessary to preserve the public peace, the police will be compelled to use them."

BELGIAN PRIESTS ARE TORTURED

(By Associated Press)

Malines, Belgium, November 27.—(Havas)—49 Belgian priests were tortured and put to death by the Germans during the occupation, Cardinal Mercier the primate of Belgium, declared in an interview today. He added that 12,000 men were removed from his diocese to Germany where they were forced to work.

Other crimes committed by the Germans the Cardinal said, were too long and too terrible to relate briefly.

PREPARING FOR FIFTH WAR LOAN

Treasury Department Announces the Issuance of $600,000,000 in Certificates

(By Associated Press)

Washington, November 27.—In preparation for the fifth war loan the treasury announced today the issuance of $600,000,000 or more of certificates of indebtedness, payable May 6th, 1919, and paying 4 1-2 per cent interest.

The subscription period will run from December 5th to 10th. The maturity date of the issues indicate that the fifth loan will be floated in April.

Heretofore the first issue of loan certificates matured about one week after the loan campaign closed.

Treasury officials have indicated that public loans hereafter will be subscribed during a period of not more than three weeks, the length of the liberty loan drive.

The offering of certificates, dating November 7th, and due March 15th, closes tonight.

THE REASON

The Treasury will issue blocks of these certificates bi-weekly, amounting to not less than $500,000,000 nor more than $750,000,000 for an indefinite time, Secretary McAdoo explained in a letter today to every bank and trust company. He appealed for the banks' support of the Government's future financial program.

Outlining the program he said:

"The proceeds of the Fourth Liberty Loan in excess of the amount of Treasury certificates issued in anticipation of that loan have been exhausted and the remaining payments to be made on subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan will but little more than cover the Treasury certificates of indebtedness issued in anticipation and as yet unpaid."

"Evidently some time must pass before a readjustment from a war to a peace basis can reflect itself in material demotion of the daily cash outgo from the treasury."

"Uncertainties with respect to pending revenue legislation make it impracticable and inexpedient to borrow further at this time in anticipation of taxes."

OPERATORS CALL STRIKE

(By Associated Press)

Atlanta, Ga., November 27.—Representatives of the order of railroad telegraphers meeting here and in Chicago today voted to call a strike effective Dec. 5th unless their original demands are granted by the railroad administration.

O. D. Gorman, chairman of the southeastern division of the order made the announcement here today.

The Chicago conference, he said, was attended by representatives of all the divisions except the southeastern.

NO RED FLAGS IN CHICAGO

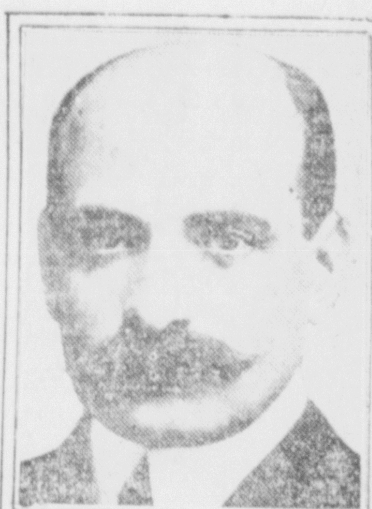

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, November 27.—One of the first official acts of Chicago's new soldier chief of police, Colonel John J. Garrity, was to declare war on anarchists. "There won't be any red flag parades in Chicago while I am chief of police," he said. "The only flag that any one needs to fly in this city is the Stars and Stripes."

MAY SUCCEED SECRETARY M'ADOO

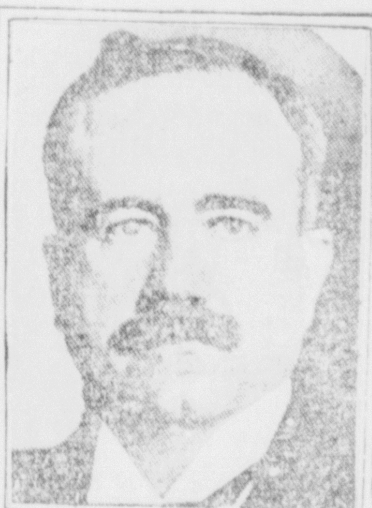

BERNARD M. BARUCH

PAUL H. WARBURG

DR. HARRY A. GARFIELD

JOHN S. WILLIAMS

Among the most prominent men mentioned as probable successors of William G. McAdoo as Secretary of the Treasury are John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency; Bernard M. Baruch, who at present occupies a position which fits him in a peculiar manner for the work of readjustment financing in which the Secretary of the Treasury must have a great part during the next five years; Dr. Harry A. Garfield, Fuel Administrator, and Paul Warburg, formerly a member of the Federal Reserve Board.

ARGUMENTS OF CRITICS NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, November 27.—No weight is attached by President Wilson to the argument of critics to his plans for attending the peace conference that upon crossing the sea he loses the right to perform executive duties and would allow them to devolve upon the Vice-President.

It was said officially today that the President will administer the duties of his office as completely from aboard ship and in Paris as though he were in the United States. He holds there are no constitutional difficulties and wireless and cables solve the physical difficulties.

There was no announcement today of his plan or the personnel of the peace delegation. The understanding is that at least one place on the delegation remains to be filled but that the President expects to be able to make the name public before the end of the week.

HUN TROOPS STILL LOOT

(By Associated Press)

Berne, November 27.—(Havas)—Reiterated reports of outrages by German soldiers in eastern Poland have been received in Polish circles in Switzerland. The troops are looting and burning all along their way and treating the inhabitants cruelly, it is declared.

Strong protest to Warsaw has been sent in from the affected region.

TWENTY-SEVEN SUBS

Harwich, England, November 27.—Twenty-seven German submarines were surrendered today to the allies. This brings to 114 the total of German U-boats turned over.

FINDLAY MEN FACING

FEDERAL COURT MARTIAL

(By Associated Press)

Findlay, Ohio, November 27.—The Cleveland federal grand jury has indicted two Findlay men, Samuel Grant lumber man, for the alleged posting as a government representative and threatening owners of timber property with confiscation of their land unless they signed contracts with him, and Rudolph Maeller, formerly ordinance inspector at the Grant munition plant here, for the alleged padding of pay vouchers for government work.

RECURRENCE OF EPIDEMIC IMPROBABLE

There Have Been New Outbreaks of Influenza in Some Cities

Health Officials Are Optimistic as to State Generally

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., November 27.—Though there has been considerable recurrence of influenza in a number of cities and centers throughout the state, acting state health commissioner Bauman said today he does not anticipate a general recurrence of the epidemic as it existed during the middle of November.

Local boards of health are being instructed to impose all restrictions on public gatherings as soon as it becomes evident that there is a recurrence of the disease in any threatening extent. Several cities have already imposed the restrictions.

METHODISTS MEET AT GRACE CHURCH SESSIONS PUBLIC

AFTERNOON AND EVENING SESSIONS OPEN TO PUBLIC.

Team workers sent out from the New York headquarters of the Methodist Centenary Movement are in Washington C. H. today, presenting to the pastors and laymen of the upper division of the Chillicothe District the plans and purposes of the Centenary.

The morning session will deal more largely with matters of particular interest to the pastors, the following sessions being open to all.

The Centenary movement of the M. E. Church is in reality an observance of the hundredth anniversary of the founding of their mission society, and is of particular interest to Ohioans because of the fact that the first work of this nature was done by John Stewart, a colored man, who, starting out from Marietta, worked his way to Upper Sandusky, where he worked among the Wyandotte Indians. From this start, and in but one hundred years, the work has grown until now, in addition to the work of the Home Board, mission stations are established on every continent. The Methodists are responsible for carrying the gospel to 150,000,000 people abroad.

A scientific survey, said Dr. John R. Mott to be the most complete ever made, shows a need of forty million dollars for foreign, and a like sum for Home Missions, in the next five years. This does not allow for a great expansion but only to take care of the needs in fields already occupied.

To show this need and to instruct in the methods to be used in carrying out the campaign is the object of the visit of the team workers, who are comprised of the following men: Rev. W. E. Lewis D. D., Dallas, Tex., in charge of the Minute Man organization, and team leader. Dr. Lewis will also speak on the Department of Intercession; Dr. L. E. Linnell, missionary from India, Foreign Survey; Dr. A. K. VanWoert, Home Survey; Rev. E. H. Stafford, D. D., Stewardship and Life Service; C. R. Lowe, Unit Organization. Mr. Lowe will also tell of the great culminating feature of the Centenary, the Celebration, to be held in Columbus next June, where it is confidently expected that not less than 100,000 Methodists will gather in the greatest religious gathering ever held on this continent.

Of particular interest to the public will be the stereopticon lectures to be shown by Dr. VanWoert at 4:00 p. m., and by Dr. Linnell at 7:30. These views are without question the finest ever made.

MAY FORM COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Arrangements have been made to hold a meeting of the farmers and citizens of Fayette county at Memorial Hall next Saturday, November 30th, at one o'clock.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss and, if found practicable, to form a county farm bureau.

Practically all the counties in the state have such an organization and it is deemed important that Fayette county also should have such an organization.

A speaker from the Extension Department of the Ohio State University will be present to explain and assist in the formation of a county bureau. The membership fee is one dollar per year and the benefits are so numerous that it is believed no farmer can afford to fail to be associated with the movement.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas the Great Shepherd has called to Himself the shepherd of our flock, Rev. George L. Hart,

Resolved: That in him we have lost a man of great spirituality, a true friend, and a wise counsellor.

Resolved: That as pastor of our church he was an efficient leader, a man of broad vision up to the minute in his thought, and possessing those qualities which endeared him to his people, and giving himself in untiring service for them.

Resolved: That these resolutions be entered upon the records of our church and copies be sent to the family and to the public press.

WILSON TO HONOR MOTHER ABROAD

(By Universal Service).—President Wilson's decision first to visit England on his way to the peace conference was made that he might participate in the unveiling of a tablet in honor of his mother at the First Presbyterian Church at Carlisle, England, near Liverpool, just across the Irish Sea, from Downpatrick, Ireland, where many members of the Wilson family are buried.

According to an authoritative source the President is deeply touched by the action of the citizens of the little town of Carlisle, where his mother spent her early girlhood and where her father, the Rev. James Woodrow, was pastor.

The Rev. James Woodrow was born in Downpatrick, the birthplace of St. Patrick.

The Rev. Joseph Wilson, father of the President, was pastor of a Presbyterian church at Chillicothe, and it was there that he met and married Mary Woodrow.

The Woodrow family played a prominent part in the early days of Carlisle, and the old stone church is still in use. A bronze memorial which will set forth the part which the mother of the President bore in the history of the church and the world will be placed in the wall.

MAJOR HENRY C. EMERY

Major Henry C. Emery, formerly professor at Yale University, has returned to this country after seven months' imprisonment in Germany, following his arrest on the Aland Islands in Finland. He had been representing the Guaranty Trust Company in Russia since 1916, and after his failure to escape the clutches of the Teutonic-Bolshevik clique, he was transferred to a German prison camp at Tüchel. The failure of the Spring drive on Paris, said Major Emery, started the doubting of the German people which has resulted in the present revolutionary movement in Germany.

AMBITIOUS PLAN OF HOLD-UP GANG WAS FRUSTRATED

Daring Crook Is Captured
By B. & O. Detective,
Who Thwarts Plan To Kill Him.

Thugs Also Planned To Hold Up Standard Oil
Station in This City.

How a gang of thugs planned to hold up and rob Standard Oil Filling Station in this city while presumably sleeping in the Engine House, and later how they planned to kill B. & O. Detective Fred Lieurance has been disclosed by the leader of the gang who was arrested by Detective Lieurance after a long chase after the fellows had robbed a freight car at Potomac.

The gang of thugs struck the city Sunday, and each man being armed, they set about to pull off a hold-up stunt in the city and picked the Standard Oil Station in this city as the most likely place to rob.

Secreting their pistols near the Episcopal church on the corner of Fayette and East streets, the trio of crooks made their way to the police station to seek shelter for the night, expecting that they would have a warm place to stay, and while the police were absent, would hurry out, obtain their guns and proceed to hold up the Standard Oil Filling Station, after which they would return to the police station while the police were absent so that they would not be suspected.

The plan worked perfectly until they made application to stay over night, when Night Patrolman Bell announced that they would be accommodated, and conducting them to the city lock-up, placed them under lock and key, where they remained until early morning when they were released, so that their daring scheme was frustrated.

Soon after they were released they proceeded to Potomac, west of this city and there broke into a car of merchandise and helped themselves. As soon as the matter came to the attention of Detective Lieurance he proceeded to look out for suspicious characters, and ran across the trio a short distance from the scene. When the trio saw the detective they climbed aboard a passing freight, and were closely followed by the detective. Running forward on the train the men leaped off and started to run across a field. Detective Lieurance followed, regardless of the fact that he suspected the men to be armed and desperate characters. After a long chase the detective got within firing distance and after orders to halt had been ignored, opened fire upon one of them. George McBride, 29, This occurred in a stock field, and McBride fell as if wounded, losing his gun in the fall, so that he was speedily overtaken and placed under arrest. The other two succeeded in making their escape.

McBride confessed to robbing the car and told of his ambitious plans to rob the Standard Oil Company. He also admitted that the trio had planned in making their escape to lead the detective into a woodlot toward which they are making, and then kill the detective, if necessary, to escape from him.

A careful description of the two renegades was obtained from McBride, who gives Allentown, Pa., as his home, and the authorities in all surrounding counties have been warned to be on the lookout for them.

McBride is in the county jail and will face a charge of breaking and entering a car and carrying away merchandise.

THE JUVENILE LAW NOT UNDERSTOOD

For the benefit of the business men in the city who have been employing minors under sixteen years of age, the following law of the state of Ohio is quoted:

Section 12975. "Whoever employs a minor under sixteen years of age before exacting from such minor or the age or school certificate provided by law, or fails to keep such certificate on file to permit a truant officer upon request therefor, to examine such certificate, shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than fifty dollars." (R. S. Sec. 4022-2 as amended May 19, 1910).

The alarming illiteracy in the American Army has prompted the government to insist upon the enforcement of this Juvenile law.

Let Us Give Thanks

Let us give Thanks, not only for ourselves, but for all mankind, that the slaughter is ended.

Let us give Thanks that our country has not suffered so strongly the blight of the Hun with its beastiality and destruction, and temper this Thanks with sympathy and a prayer for those countries that have suffered so strongly.

Let us give Thanks for the victory and fresh glory "Our Boys" have brought to America and for the greater freedom and liberty they have so ably aided in bringing to the world.

Let us be Thankful, from the bottom of our hearts, that they are coming back, so many of them, and for those who come back only in memory, let us be Thankful for the glory of that memory, one that will grow brighter and more glorious each day.

Let us give Thanks for the honor and privilege of "doing our bit," small though it may be, and may we continue doing it with the same high honor of the past.

Let us give Thanks to God for the privilege of enjoying this day.

The Mauretania Sails

In the telegraph news from across the ocean on Tuesday was an item sent from Liverpool notifying the world that the Mauretania had sailed Monday morning for New York, carrying a large number of passengers.

Only a few weeks ago had the great Cunard Liner, sister ship of the Lusitania now at the bottom of the Irish Sea, sailed from Liverpool millions of people would have waited in a fever of anxious suspense as hour by hour passed with the gallant ship and precious cargo out at sea. Now we will, in all probability hear no more until the Mauretania is sighted off Fire Island and is piloted to her old berth in New York harbor.

Thus easily does this great world of people adapt itself to existing circumstances and accept as a matter of course, today what, but yesterday, was impossible.

Thanksgiving

Not since that first Thanksgiving day which the Pilgrim Fathers observed in the wilderness, has America had more to be thankful for, on the one day in the year which national custom has decreed shall be devoted to grateful acknowledgement of our blessings, than it has tomorrow.

Providence has been kind to America in the dispensation of blessings. During the dark days of war we have been blessed in the ability, the bravery and the unselfish patriotism of our public servants and the men who have placed their all, of resources, of ability and energy, upon the altar of the country in its time of need. We have been blessed with an united and an understanding people who have stood steadfastly, loyally, patiently and uncomplainingly—a mountain of strength against which the tides of autocracy's war have beaten in vain.

America has been signally blessed that she was privileged to place all of her gigantic strength upon the side of right in the great world conflict, privileged that an intelligent people understood and willingly ranged themselves, and all that they had under the standards of liberty and justice.

We are thankful that the mighty oceans are clear of pirate raiders and that upon the great liners our boys are coming home by the thousands, their duty done, and victory won, every week.

America gives thanks tomorrow that the boys who sleep across the sea will be remembered, through all the coming ages, as those who died that the world might live and that coming generations will speak in veneration and love of the soldiers who fell with their faces to the front.

From millions of voices tomorrow will ascend to heaven the glad acclaim of a world made free and as the songs of victory, in their glorious volume roll heavenward it will be at once the great anthem of thanksgiving for the success of the cause for which men died, the expression of the confident hope that the great peace council, soon to convene, will incorporate, in enduring form, the everlasting principles of justice and freedom into the laws of nations and the proclamation of the glories of the new era dawning upon the world.

America tomorrow will be unable to enumerate the great blessings which Providence has bestowed upon her and even those whose hearts are sad because their loved ones sleep across the sea, are thankful for the glorious part they played in life's tremendous drama and the halo of glory which, through all the ages, will envelope their memory.

We Must Guard Our Liberties

Always jealous of their freedom and hostile to any proposal which tends to, permanently, abridge that freedom, the American people realize, that at this time, there is a vicious current flowing under the surface which will destroy the blessings of liberty, so dearly bought and so dearly defended, unless there is a halt called on the public preaching of those anarchistic doctrines which laid great Russia and all her resources at the feet of the Huns and, even now, is spreading like wild fire among the discontented, wretched and disheartened masses of Austria-Hungary and Germany.

This great free land of ours, with all its blessings, victory crowned, upon the threshold of the greatest era of prosperity and happiness which ever opened before humanity, is no place for the men who mount soap boxes or barrels at busy street corners to preach anarchy and destruction.

This is no time, and America is no place for the disturbers. Our ports of entry should be so carefully guarded and our cities so carefully ordered that the torch bearer will find no opportunity to carry on his deadly vocation.

POEM FOR TODAY

BELLEAU WOODS

It was thick with Prussian troops
It was foul with German guns;
Every tree that cast a shadow
Was a sheltering place for Huns.
Death was guarding every roadway,
And behind each rise of terrain
Was a rapid fire concealed;
But the "Dough boys" had their orders;
Drive the Boche from where he's hid
'For the honor of Old Glory, take those woods,'
And so we did.

I fancy none will tell the story
As it should be told,
None will ever do full justice
To those Yankee troopers bold.
How we crawled upon our stomachs
Through the field of golden wheat
With bullets spitting at us,
In that awful battle heat,
It's a tale too big for writing,
It's beyond the voice of pen;
But it glows among the splendor of
The bravest deeds of men.

It's recorded as a battle
But I fancy it will live
As the brightest gem of courage,
Human struggles have to give,
Inch by inch we crawled to victory,
Toward the gleaming mouths of guns,
Inch by inch we crawled to Grapple,
With the barricaded Hun,
On thru the fields that death was
Sweeping, with a murderous fire
We went,
Till the Teuton line was vanquished
And the German strength spent.

Ebbcd and flowed the tide of battle
As they seldom flowed before;
Slowly, surely, moved the Yankees,
Against all the odds of war;
For honor of the fallen,
For the glory of the dead,
The living line of courage,
Kept the faith and moved ahead,
We had been ordered not to falter
And when night came on we stood,
With Old Glory proudly flying
O'er the trees of Belleau Woods."

ZEEBRUGGE HERO

CAPTAIN A. F. B. CARPENTER

Captain A. F. B. Carpenter, V. C., one of the heroes of the successful attack of the British navy on the German submarine base at Zeebrugge has arrived in New York on a special mission for the British Admiralty. His conduct as commander of the expedition and of H. M. S. Vindictive, which he held against the mole for an hour and a half under the heavy fire of the shore batteries and machine guns while landing party was ashore, gained for him promotion and the coveted Victoria Cross. While his vessel was alongside the mole Captain Carpenter was exposed constantly while directing his men. Several bullets tore his clothing, four pierced his cap, his binocular case was smashed, but fortunately he escaped with only a slight wound on his elbow.

News of Interest to Women

Mrs. Arthur Burgett delightfully entertained the Tuesday afternoon Kensington Club.

The Mother's Club held an interesting and enjoyable session with Mrs. Frank Jones this week. Plans are afoot for a profitable year's work.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cherrington and son, Rev. Arthur P. Cherrington, are entertaining a Thanksgiving week end house party, including Mrs. Clione Cherrington Baily, daughters Helen and Ruth, Mr. Ernest H. Cherrington and family of Westerville, Mr. Charles S. Cherrington, of Columbus.

Miss Joy McWilliam is entertaining a jolly quartet of Wilmington girls, Misses Marjorie McDonald, Dorothy Baughman, Katherine Bright and Goldie Pearson, for the Thanksgiving football game between Wilmington and Washington, and for a week end house party.

Mrs. Ruth Brownell pleasantly entertained a few friends of closest intimacy at a luncheon of dainty appointments, Tuesday noon, at her home on N. North street.

Miss Lucy Brownell assisted in the hospitalities.

After the women of Saint Andrew's Episcopal Church had decorated the church for the Thanksgiving season, Tuesday evening, they surprised Rev. D. H. Barre and mother, Mrs. Abbie E. Barre at the Rectory, and took with them an abundance of good cheer and Thanksgiving offerings.

The evening was one of exceptional pleasure, the courtesy of the church members very much appreciated by Rev. Barre and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Shough entertained on Tuesday evening the Clinton avenue social club with an old fashioned box supper. The evening was fraught with much pleasure.

Shaggy yellow and white chrysanthemums, mingled with green, gave a touch of beauty throughout the home. The gay music and interesting contests, together with the decided hospitality of the host and hostess made the evening complete.

It has been remarkable that many feminine fashions prevalent even to this day are survivals of barbaric practices. African tribes pierce the nose and the lips and hang ornaments therefrom. Until some one kindly invented the screw earring, ladies of the highest social circles followed the primitive custom of perforating the ears, from which they hung dangling pendants. The Picts, dating in the Stone Age, who inhabited Great Britain before the Saxon invasion, practiced staining their faces. In an earlier day a woman who painted her face was commonly spoken of as a Pict. American Indians smeared themselves with chromatic earths in order to strike terror to the hearts of their foes the "painted savages" who descended upon the early settlers being often mentioned in the chronicles of the latter.

American women, therefore, have historical precedent in their endeavors toward facial embellishment.

Given eyebrow pencil, lip stick, rouge, and powder puff, a girl of artistic ability can make herself a passable picture unless subjected to day light or the glare of electricity when the camouflage is readily apparent, the more so as the aforementioned artistic ability is frequently a minus quantity. Many faces seen on our streets bear a resemblance to the luscious marshmallow in that they are equally well dusted with powder. However satisfactory the original application, a hot day plays the mischief with it. Perspiration absorbs it in patches, and makes uncharted channels through it. That, no doubt, is the reason why the process of repainting a damaged complexion is no longer conducted in the privacy of the boudoir. Vanity cases open in the most unexpected places—in church, in the street car, at the matinee; we have even beheld the powder rag getting in its beneficent work on the street; in fact her complexion never seems to be off the feminine mind, however it may desert the cheek.

Perhaps, after all this is part of Modesty's defenses. The young man who realizes that he may not only damage a picture but also his clothes if he attempts to implant a kiss upon the cheek of the beloved, may consider "Safety first." Our men are earning high praise for their bravery and courage overseas. If they dare face German cannon, how then shall they be daunted by face powder?—Detroit Free Press.

The committee have completed all arrangements for the Thanksgiving dance at the Eagles Hall, tomorrow evening under the auspices of the St. Andrews' Guild of Episcopal church.

DODGE BROTHERS FARMERS CAR

A car the farmer can depend upon for steady everyday low-cost service. Designed by Dodge Brothers to pay its way on big or little farms. A strong car on which the cost of running can be closely calculated in advance. So sturdily built that he can be sure repair costs will be unusually low. So light that gasoline and oil and tire costs can be gauged from month to month. A car built by Dodge Brothers to yield returns, not to roll up expenses.

Built to give good service in its second year as well as in its first. A car the farmer can buy with complete confidence for two reasons: First, because Dodge Brothers built it, and because they have never built a poor car. Second, because the car has always been known for its low gasoline and tire costs, and its remarkable freedom from repair. A really profitable aid to the farmer who realizes that now—more than ever—time is money, and economy in labor the great need of the hour.

It will pay you to visit us and examine this car

SCHOOLS OF CITY INVEST $1209.58 DURING PAST WEEK

The pupils of the Washington Public Schools showed a spirit of loyalty and thankfulness in this week's purchase of War and Thrift Stamps. The total purchases since last week report are $1,209.58, bringing the average per pupil enrolled to $12.94. Many schools in the state have larger sales per pupil, for the pupils have been the sales agents, but it is doubtful if there is any school in the state where the pupils actually own a larger amount per capita than the pupils of the Washington schools. This shows not only loyalty on the part of the pupils but it also shows thrift as well, which bespeaks for Washington a better and more useful citizenship in the future.

The struggle for Democracy that has been so violently waged and won, means better homes, better citizenship and a better world in which to live, otherwise the sacrifices that the brave boys have made will have been made in vain.

The following report will be of interest to all citizens of Washington and will be cause for gratitude to all patrons of the school.

High School enrollment 243, stamps owned $537.18, an average of $2.22 per pupil.

Central Building enrollment 509, stamps owned $851.63, an average per pupil of $17.03.

Sunny Side enrollment 227, stamps owned $1024.40, an average of $4.57 per pupil.

East Side, enrollment 245, stamps owned $642.38, an average of $2.61 per pupil.

Cherry Hill, enrollment 152, stamps owned $999.59, an average of $6.53 per pupil.

Total enrollment of schools 1367, and the amount invested in stamps $16,562.09, average per pupil enrolled $12.04.

BILLIE BURKE AT THE WONDERLAND

The Wonderland Theatre is presenting a big Thanksgiving day attraction, in "Arms and the Girl" with Billie Burke the star and line cast.

The photodrama closely follows the stage version. An American Girl, stranded in Belgium at the opening of the war, innocently exchanges her passport with a Russian girl—a spy—and a young man, also American, aids the spy by the loan of his automobile. When the Germans seize the town the two Americans, who have not been able to escape, are held for complicity and the man ordered to be shot. "The Girl" saves him by declaring him to be the fiancé for whom she had been waiting, and to prove her statement the German General ordered the two to be married at once. The ceremony performed, the young couple find themselves in a rather embarrassing position. However everything smooths out in a most delightful way.

Altogether, "Arms and the Girl" is one of most charmingly humorous and vivid photoplays of the season, interestingly thrilling and an admirable vehicle for the piquant little American actress.

The play is shown tonight and will be shown Thanksgiving Day, both matinee and evening.

WILMINGTON WILL PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Quite a bit of interest centers in the Thanksgiving day football game in this city, when Washington's old rivals, Wilmington High, will meet the Washington High school team.

It is expected that a good contest will be staged, but Washington is expected to win with a good margin to spare.

The game will be called at 2:00 o'clock.

CHEERY LETTERS FROM OVERSEAS

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Mark received on Tuesday the first word from their son, Private Harold Mark, since he went aboard the transport for overseas service six weeks ago. Three letters were received, all brimming over with buoyant spirits and giving interesting glimpses of French life. Private Mark writes that it is hard to tell the men and the women apart in the little villages where he is stationed for plush hats, ribbon streamers are as much in vogue with men as they are with the women. In this little village there are no men left able to work so that the women do it all.

The French sing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" lustily and are full of enthusiasm for the Americans.

SIMPLE SERVICES PRECEDE BURIAL

With the home of Mr. J. L. Roth crowded with friends, Rev. J. L. McWilliams conducted simple services Wednesday afternoon over all that was mortal of Georgiana Glascock, 18, Glascock, of Cincinnati. The heart-breaking sorrow which enveloped the home in the garnering for the eternal gardens of this darling little girl, bright and promising to an unusual degree and loved by all who knew her, was deeply shared by the entire gathering.

Very beautifully and with tender sympathy Rev. McWilliams brought to those bereft a message of solace in the spoken words, the reading of the scriptures and the prayer. His theme was "Over Heavenly Journey" and his dominant thought that those who had lost a child of tender years had gained an heir of immortal youth—the sweet faced little girl, sleeping so peacefully upon the velvet pillows of her white couch casket, amidst a perfect wilderness of flowers, would always be the beautiful child of memory and of dreams.

The Minister read two Longfellow poems which were singularly apropos, "A Tribute to Maidenhood" and "The Reaper and the Flower."

Hon. Frank C. Parrett, Messrs. West Shoop, Ray Maynard and G. L. Spragg bore the little white casket from the house and a long line of automobiles followed the funeral car to the Washington cemetery, where the burial was made in the Glascock lot.

The flowers were wonderfully beautiful and in great numbers. Many came from the relatives and friends in Cincinnati and in Chillicothe as well as from those here. A very hand-some piece was sent by Union Central Insurance Co., with which Mr. Glascock is connected. Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gifford, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Mrs. Otto Tritschler, of Chillicothe, were here for the services.

SERVICE SHOULD BE WELL ATTENDED

The Annual Union Thanksgiving Service will be held at Grace Methodist Episcopal Church Thursday morning from 10 o'clock to 11 o'clock—one short hour in which to pour out gratitude for this wonderful year and its wonderful outcome.

Rev. J. L. McWilliams, the new acting pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and a forceful and interesting speaker, will deliver a short sermon and the choir of Grace Church, assisted by the other church choirs, furnish special music.

It is most fitting that the church be thronged with worshippers at such a time as this.

The offering will go to local welfare work.

FARM BUREAUS IN OHIO

A state-wide campaign to increase the membership in farm bureaus in Ohio will be conducted during Thanksgiving week by the farm bureaus in each county. Each member who joins will be given a button and an 11-square inch membership card to be placed on his front gate. Mass meetings of the farmers will be held at the county seats on Saturday of Thanksgiving week at which the farm bureau's program of work for the coming year will be presented for adoption. Prominent agricultural speakers have been secured to address these meetings.

The purpose of the campaign at this time to line up the agricultural forces of the state on an efficient food production program. The need for stimulating agricultural production next season is set forth by Dean Alfred Vivian, of the Ohio State University college of agriculture, as follows: "While peace will probably release food supplies that are now withheld from trade, peace will also remove great food embargoes which will thereby greatly increase the demand for food. A great armed force must be maintained in Europe to see that the new peace treaties are not to be again treated as mere scraps of paper. Roumania, Czevia, and Poland, who have been on starvation rations for four years, will seek large quantities of food. Our enormous army will not be demobilized by next year. Furthermore the entire world will as soon as possible increase its food consumption in accordance with normal demands.

"Farmers, therefore, have more reason than ever to expect a good market for the biggest crops they can produce next year."

MORE PRO-GERMAN RUMORS
Malicious rumors have been reaching the College of Agriculture at Columbus to the effect that the government intends to requisition or confiscate a certain portion of the food canned in the homes. Another rumor states that home canned food is to be heavily taxed by the federal government. Both are declared to be unfounded according to state and federal officials. On the contrary the government wishes every person to store up as much food in the home as possible by means of home canning and thus insure an adequate supply of food for reconstruction needs.

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE WRITTEN BY GIFTED LOCAL WOMAN

The following beautiful tribute was read by the writer, Mrs. F. G. Carpenter, at the Social Session of the Women's Relief Corps, Friday afternoon, November 22, when a number of comrades of the G. A. R. were present.

Home vs. Institution

Can a beneficent institution be a home? I can answer this question with an equivocal "Yes," when referring to one such place, which I have visited time after time, observing the methods of those in authority, and mingling with those whose fortunes have sent them hitherward.

Nine years ago, General William R. Burnett was appointed Commandant at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home, Erie County, Ohio. His first thought on taking up his new duties was an unselfish one.

William R. Burnett is a man of broad sympathies, excellent judgment and abundant common sense. He also possesses a fund of humor, which is indispensable in those positions where a man deals directly with his fellow-men.

There has been quite a transformation in the surroundings of the Home since that November day in 1888, when it sheltered its first applicant. Sixteen others joined him before the day closed, most of whom had been living in brush shanties on adjoining ground while awaiting the opening of their future home.

This event took place during the administration of the late J. B. Foraker whom the veterans still name as one of their very best friends. The county furnished a little more than one hundred acres for the ideal location, and the ground itself supplied the limestone for the pretty cottages where the men now reside.

The average age of the Civil War veterans is seventy-six years, yet an atmosphere of good cheer is prevalent everywhere. Even in the hospital many of the patients will smile in answer to a "How do you do," and say that understood. I happened to be with him on one of his rounds. As a child looks confidently into its mother's face, a feeble veteran looked lovingly at "Uncle Billy." Then, as if some explanation was needed, he turned to me with his momentarily transfigured face and remarked, "We love to see him come in."

In addition to the 1092 Civil War veterans now in the Home, there is one Mexican War veteran, sixty-four Spanish-American War veterans, one who served on the Mexican border, and four Indian War veterans. What of the future occupancy of this Home? Many estimable men are left without friends or relatives to care for them in their declining years. God grant that if any of our boys should eventually repair to this spot, or any similar place, there may be a big-hearted Christian man like General Burnett to look after them.

For more than two years Mr. Burnett has been successfully carrying out an economic and philanthropic detail. Trustless from Ohio's big prison are performing much of the work formerly assigned to the veterans. At the present time thirty-five prisoners are employed in the Home, mostly in the hospital. No happier solution of a difficult problem could have been devised without a great expenditure of

HARTMAN THEATER

The Hartman Theatre, Columbus, begins a new policy Sunday night. Beginning on that date, each week's offering will open on Sunday night.

The productions from F. Ray Comstock's smart Princess Theatre in New York City have become an American institution, and this current season one of the most important theatrical engagements of the Hartman Theatre, Columbus, Ohio, will be the fifth Princess Theatre musical production, "Oh, Lady! Lady!" to be seen at the Hartman during a week's engagement, beginning Sunday night, December 1st.

"Oh, Lady! Lady!" is said to have charm and novelty, and the characters unlike the usual types in musical comedies, are human.

"Oh, Lady! Lady!" is described as full of charm, with rollick and frolic, and an amusing story that has a real plot. As in all Princess Theatre productions, there is an air of refinement in "Oh, Lady! Lady!" and a complete absence of musical comedy vulgarity; and those niceties which have been such a charming feature of the predecessors of "Oh, Lady! Lady!" "Nobody Home," "Very Good, Eddie," and "Oh, Boy," are to be found in "Oh, Lady! Lady!"

The music by Jerome Kern is light, jingly and rhythmical and quite in the usual Princess Theatre order, and the song numbers are splendid. In fact, Mr. Kern's dulcet waves of the catchy airs are being whistled everywhere. The book and lyrics are by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse.

"Oh, Lady! Lady!" is filled with pretty girls, smart gowns, elaborate scenery, and all those things that have made the Princess Theatre productions a feature and an institution.

William Elliott will be associated with Mr. Comstock in the presentation of the new musical comedy.

money. The trustees have found themselves and are making good.

The Commandant's wife has been a potent factor in changing the atmosphere of an institution into a semblance of home life. As matron, she performs many kind services in her own inimitable way. True to her instinctive motherhood, if "the boys" are pleased, she is pleased. Mrs. Burnett is also interested in the trying out of the new help idea, and finds her cook and chauffeur invaluable. Through her efforts, one such man is now enjoying his freedom.

When studying the good qualities of a woman like this, we involuntarily exclaim with Harvey O'Higgins: "Mother love—it never missed yet." She and the Commandant work together in perfect accord, which is another essential to success.

As to official dignity, there is a sufficient amount to command respect. Such discipline as is necessary is administered quietly but effectively. The ostentation that so easily defeats its purpose is noticeably absent.
